UCGHI GloCal Health Fellowship Co-Sponsors Mentorship Workshop for Spanish Speaking Latin America Faculty in Lima, Peru

Monica Gandhi and Alicia Fernandez traveled to Lima, Peru in May to conduct a “Mentoring the Mentors” workshop sponsored by the UCGHI Glocal Fellowship Program (funded by the Fogarty International Training Center). Dr. Craig Cohen, the PI of the UCGHI GloCal Health Fellowship, co-sponsored the two day workshop conducted May 23-24, 2013 in Lima Peru. The workshop focused on training mentors in mentorship skills for global health research. Participants from the Universidad Peruana Cayetano Heredia (UPCH) and the Naval Medical Research Unit-6 (NAMRU-6) in Lima, Peru, along with faculty from other universities in Peru, Argentina, Brazil, Panama and Mexico participated in an intensive and interactive mentorship course directed by Monica Gandhi and co-facilitated by faculty from UPCH and Dr. Alicia Fernandez from UCSF. Dr. Cohen sponsored the program and helped in program development and will be sponsoring similar mentoring programs around the globe as part of his GloCal Health Fellowship program, including one scheduled for June 17-18, 2013 in Mombasa, Kenya to help institutionalize mentorship in East Africa.
